

" First Times and Let's Be Friends "

Kum Ba Yah (Come be Here).

Hold on to the memories of our First Times.
They'll be the ones we'll remember the most, and the most often.
One never knows what is going to last.
So, we decided to try just being friends.
It's because of loneliness and the wanting, isn't it ?

The first time we met.
The first time we spoke.
The first time we laughed.
The first time we went and did (what I call, "go and do").
The first time I said, "I like you." and You said, "I like you too."

The first time we spoke of happy times.
The first time we shared those which are sad.
The first time we talked about our friends and families.
It was...
The first time we really wanted our time together to last.

There have already been some lovely First Times...
I'll remember each and every one.
Although a first time to truly remember,
Is that unique First Time
We accepted to simply Trust one and the other...

Without being in Love.
